If You Lose All Your Data Today...
Will You Still Be In Business Tomorrow?

Protect your Critical Data with Web Vault Offsite Data Backup

Research shows that 90% of companies that lose their data in a disaster are out of business within 2 years. Still, most companies do not effectively backup and protect their critical data offsite.

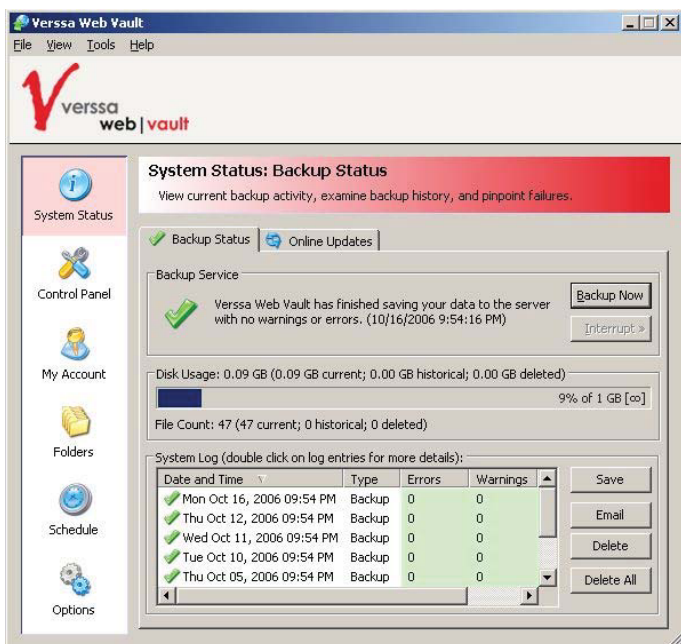

Secure and reliable data protection is a critical element of any organization's business continuity and disaster recovery planning.

Verssa Web Vault provides users with an online solution for backing up and storing computer files.

Verssa offers backup solutions that can fit into the existing infrastructure of a small to mid-sized business. Our easy-to-use system lets you decide how often and how much to backup. Because only the changes (or deltas) of your data are stored, very small amounts of storage are used to maintain many versions.

You can even ask Web Vault to help you when data is destroyed by mistake. With our Advanced version, Web Vault will maintain copies of files you have deleted for the period of time you determine preventing accidental deletions. This valuable tool will come in very handy one day, when you least expect it.
